Foreign exchange was heavy under sales of bills supposed to be drawn against the closing out in London of the £5,000,000 loan of the Reading Railread Company. Business was on the basis of 100% for prime sixty-day sterling and 110% for sight bills.

The gold market responded immediately to the peck of war discernible in our relations with pain and opened at 114%, but later in the day fell to 114% on the weakness of exchange and Washington despatches indicating a progation of the session of Congress, atter contingency opening up the chance of brther negotiations, having for their object the paying of the supplemental treaty. The speculation for an advance seemed greatly discouraged, and the "bulls" had less influence than of late over the sourse of the premium, their loss of prestige being accable to the less active desire to continue the the Custom House returns for last week. STOCKS DULL AND LOWER.

The stock market was heavy as a consequence of the unfavorable aspect both of the Washington Treaty question and of our relations with Spain, and under the operation of the same influences which affected the gold market prices declined, but the changes in the general list were not im portant and hardly exceeded an average of one-half per cent. Some little use was made of an accident, or rather an incident, connected with Commodore Vanderbilt's visit to the Jerome Park races on Saturday, by the "bears" in Central

The "accident" amounted to this only:—The Com-modore, in returning from the races, and while driving at a rapid gait, ran over a pretty large boulder. Perceiving, as he fancied, that the wheel was broken and an overset was imminent, he sprang from the vehicle and alighted safely on the ound. Discovering, however, that his surmises injury to the wagon were incorrect, he recovered seat and continued his journey. The story got abroad this morning that the effort involved in his dexterous leap from the wagon had been too much for him, and that paralysis and many other evil things had supervened. The greatest decline was in Erie, which went off to 80% in sympathy with the continued downward tendency of the London market, but recovered suddenly to 61%, owing to the demand for cash stock, which was worth as much as % per cent for transfer to-day, before the closing of the books against the election in July. Subsequently is went off again to 60%.
The suit to compel the Eric Rallway to assume the obligation incurred in endorsing the bonds of the Boston, Hartford and Eric Railway has been decided quently, of the bondsmen. The decision will be found in our reports of matters in the law courts.

The Grand Jury, when empanelled, will, it is understood, at once proceed with the examination of some two hundred indictments which have been prepared, and all of which relate to the whiskey frauds of 1867, of 1868, and to the various suits instituted by ex-Collector Balley. The indictmeets charge ex-revenue officials, distillers, go-betweens, co-called counsel, wholesale liquor dealers and brokers in spirits with defrauding the government of the tax on whiskey. General Glesson, of Fesian celebrity, has been subponsed as a winness, and a general expose of the trauds against the government is anticipated.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS-PART I. Felonious Assault .- Convicted of False Pretences.

Before City Judge Bedford.

After the transaction of considerable routine business yesterday the trial of Benedict Meyer, charged with committing a felonious assault upon Mathias Grief, which was commenced on Friday, was resumed.

Dr. Buell testified that he dressed the complainant's wound, which extended from the eye to the lip. It was a dangerous, but not a necessarily cotal wound. in it was a dangerous, but not a necessarily fatal wound.

Anthony Wils testified that when the officers came to arrest Meyer, he said to a friend of his (Wils), "If I did do it (meaning the stabbing), I do not care anything about it."

The prisoner was sworn in his own behalf, and said that on the night in question Grief was very drunk, and that he fell down inside and outside of the lager beer saloon where they had been drinking.

Two witnesses also swore that the complainant was drunk in the saloon.

was drunk in the saioon.

The jury rendered a verdict of guilty of an assault with a dangerous weapon, with intent to do bodily with a dangerous weapon, with intent to do bodily harm.

As the wound indicted was very severe, Judge Bedford imposed the highest penalty the law allowed, which was imprisonment in the State Prison for five years.

John Reddy, who on the 28th of May stole a carpet and bedstead valued at $50, the property of Mrs. R. E. Locke, pleaded guilty to petit larceny. He was sent to the Penitendury for six months. Charles McDonaid, who was jointly indicted with Daniel Noble for stealing a silver watch from James Carroll on the 28th of May, was acquitted, the testimony showing that he had nothing to do with stealing she watch and that he was a hard working youth. A Notorious False Pretence Man Sent to the State Prison by Judge Bedford. One of the most undoubted scoundrels that ever disgraced Mother Earth, who for heartless deprayity perhaps has not a peer, was yesterday morning disposed of for some time to come by City Judge Bedford. The ruffian's name is Charles Wilson, alias Rudolph Kahler, bartender by profession, born in Chicago, and residing on the corner of Bowery and Bayard street, this city. The particulars of his latest transaction, as set forth in the complaint, are as follows:

It will be remembered that Detective Philip Lambrecht, late of the Nineteenth precinct, at the hands of George Lowery recently. Lowery was tried the other day, and sentenced to the State Prison for life. On the 23d of March this Wilson visited the abode of the mother of the deceased officer, Mrs. Mazdelene Lambrecht, at No. 1024

Second avenue, and, displaying a shield having inscribed on its face "beputy United States Marshal," represented that the police force of the city of Boston, hearing of the death of her son, had raised by contribution among themselves the sum of $1,000, a sight draft for which he had then in his possession. The bereaved lady, mourning the loss of a son, was only too credulous, and placed implicit faith in the statements made. Wilson then placed in her hands which read as below, accompanied by a letter:

Mrw York, March 20, 1872.

Broadway Bank pay to the order of Mrs. Lambrecht in person one thousand dollars, value received, with current rate of exchange.

Mrs. Landerscur—Enclosed you will find our sight draft, amount $1,080, for the benefit of (dead) officer of the detective force of his ward. You will please pay dues on the draft, so as to have it cashed on sight.

THO MAS H. HOLARY.

Wilson said the $1,000 was the proceeds of THE CONTRIBUTION IN BOSTON, and that Mrs. Lambrecht had only to go to the Broadway Bank and receive therefor the amount on its face. The $14.96 he then received, and went his way rejoicing after having perpetrated one of the most heartless frauds in the annals of crime.
The following day, in the morning, Mrs. Lambrecht visited the Broadway Bank as directed, when to her great surprise she was informed the draft was as worthless as the villain who delivered it.
She was to inform the police of the transaction and give a description of the man Wilson. Accordingly she detailed all the circumstances to the Captain of the Ninsteenth precinct, who assigned Detective MoGowan to try and find the perpetrator. The officer secured the city thoroughly, and finally discovered his man on the corner of Grand and Centre streets. He was immediately taken into custody. On his person was found the sheld which he had shown to Mrs. Lambrecht and two blanks of the Western Union Telegraph Company. He was recognized as An OLD OFFENDER,

When placed at the bar yesterday morning he tried, by presenting an oily exterior and a face of innocence, to "come it over" his Honor, but it miscarried. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS-PART 2.

Sentenced. Before Recorder Hackett. Annie Smith, who on the 25th of May stole $48 from John Mahon, pleaded guilty to the offence and was sent to the State Prison for eighteen montis.

Bernard McIntee pleaded guilty to petty larceny from the person, having on the 2sth of April stole $12 from Patrick Conners. He was sent to the State Prison for one year by the Recorder.

James Byrne pleaded guilty of stealing a piece of broadcloth worth $65 from Rice & Santon, 137 Church street, and was sent to the State Prison for four years at hard labor. Peter Redment, jointly indicted with Byrne, pleaded guilty of "an attempt," and was sent to State Prison for two years and six months.

BROOKLYN COURTS.

SUPREME COURT-SPECIAL TERM. The Offal Contract Trouble-An Injune-

Before Judge Gilbert. Thomas C. Smith vs. Edward Clark .- The defendant in this action is the city contractor for the removal of offal from within the limits, and has two factories on Newtown Creek, in the Seventeenth ward, one of which are uses for colling the offal and the other for making poulrette and other composts.

Messrs. Veeder and Wood obtained on Saturday from Judge Gilbert, in this action, an injunction restraining Mr. Clark from "delivering and receiving at or upon the premises of the defendant, near Newtown Creek, on a line with Rodman avenue or any part thereof, any dead animals or offensive matter, and from the boiling, rendering or other disposition of the bodies of dead animals or other offensive matter upon said premises or any part thereof, or in any way using said premises or any part thereof, or in any way using said premises or any part thereof for the purpose of the manufacture of compost, bone dust, poudrette, guano, manure or other sileged fertilizing material, in any way producing noxious or offensive odors or stenches, and from using said premises or any part thereof in any way detrimental to the plainting herein or his business."

The injunction is granted upon the adidavits of E. F. Whillams, Stephen Reynolds, S. D. Clark, G. W. Hall, W. H. Taylor, Mary Ann Grosjen and William Martin, and the defendant is required to show cause, on the 16th day of June, why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Judgment of foreclosure and sale was ordered by the Court, Mr. George I. Murphy to sell.

COURT OF APPEALS CALENDAR.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 10, 1872. The following is the Court of Appeals day calendar or June 11:—Nos. 398, 324, 218, 327, 365, 341, 383, 399. FATAL RESULT OF A STREET FIGHT. The West Street Quarrel-Death of Morrissey in the Hospital.

William Morrissey, the man who was struck on the head with a paving stone during a fight in West street, at a late hour on Sunday night, as previously reported in the HERALD, died at two o'clock yesterday morning, in Centre Street Hospital, from the effects of the injuries he had received. tal, from the effects of the injuries he had received. The fight commenced in front of 25s West street, and engaged in it were deceased, John and Martin Counors, Richard Aherns and John Claney, who used knives, paving stones and other weapons. The police being about in time, it is said, arrested all the parties engaged in the fatal affray. It is believed that one of the Connor brothers hurled the paving stone which took fatal effect on Morrissey's head. The accused parties are all held to await the result of the investigation before Coroner Young. Dr. Marsh yesterday made a post-mortem examination on the body of Morrissey and found a fracture of the base of the skull and laceration of the brain, the result of violence. Deceased was a laborer, twenty-seven years of age, born in Ireland, single and lived at 255 West street. The body was removed to the late residence of deceased.

Ex-Alderman William Waish, the newly appointed warden of the Temba, entered upon his duties yes-terday morning.

MIDNIGHT MURDER.

A Man Killed While Returning from the

About twelve o'clock on Saturday night Mr.
Angust Brown, a German, living at 28 Lewis street, was returning home from the theatre with his wife, and when at the corner of Division and Lewis streets one of a gang of corner loafers and rumans rudely jostled against Mr. Brown, to whom he applied some insulting epithet. Brown, its a man of spirit, remarked to the blackguard that he would permit no one to insult his wife without resenting it, and at the same time commenced to pull of his coat. While doing so one of the men who had gathered about struck Mr. Brown a violent blow in the face with his fist, knocking him backwards. In the fall Mr.

his fist, knocking him backwards. In the fall Mr.

Brown struck on the back of his head, and, doubtless, received a fracture of the base of the skril, as he was instantly reduced to insensibility and never spoke afterwards.

Mrs. Brown bent over the prostrate form of her dying husband, crying out that he had been murdered, and screamed for help. A number of the gang came to the rescue and assisted the poor woman to remove the body of her husband to his home. The Thirteenth precinct police being notified sent for an ambulance and Mr. Brown was sent to Bellevue Hospital, where he sank till three o'clock on Sunday morning and expired. It is singular, but nevertheless true, that no expose of the murder was made to the Coroners' Office on Sunday by the hospital authorities, and it was not till then o'clock resterday morning that the Thirteenth precinct police notified Coroner Young that Brown died a few minutes after his admission to the hospital.

Deputy Coroner March will make a post-mortem examination on the body of deceased, and thus ascertain the cause of death.

ARRESTS ON SUSPICION.

Captain McDonnell, of the Thirteenth precinct

Captain McDonnell, of the Daylor occased, and thus ascertain the cause of death.

Captain McDonnell, of the Thirteenth precinct police, upon hearing the particulars of the murder, sent his officers in pursuit of the guilty parties, and subsequently John Smith, a notoriously bad fellow, who a few months ago stabled a man in Water street, and Richard and John Allison (brothers), were arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the murder. Smith, on being conference with Mrs. Brown, was partially identified as the man who struck her husband, and the Allison brothers admitted that they were present at the time of the occurrence. Captain McDonnell is actively engaged in collecting teammony, which will place the guilt where it properly belongs. There are several persons who saw the blow struck, and the ends of justice require that they should be forthcoming as witnesses. Coroner they should be forthcoming as witnesses. Young has not as yet named a day for he inquest, Mr. Brown was twenty-six years of age, an a native of Germany. His wife is a native of the Emerald Isle. They had been married only about eight months. Brown was a peaceable, good natured and industrious man, who enjoyed the respect of a large circle of acquaintances.

ANOTHER CARROOK ASSAULT.

Death Resulting Therefrom-A Case of Justifiable Homicide. Coroner Herrman yesterday held an inquest in the case of Mr. William Freeman, the Highth Avenue Railroad conductor, late of 894 Eighth avenue, whose death was the result of injuries to the head, received on Friday last in the liquor store 220 Eighth avenue, as previously reported in the Herald Deceased had been drinking several times with Richard C. Smith, a driver on the road, against whom he became irritated, and, in a moment of passion, caught up a carhook lying on a barrel near him, and, advancing upon Smith, struck him twice on the head with the hook. Instantly turning upon Mr. Freeman, Smith struck him on the side of the head with his fist and he fell backwards, striking his head against a beer box. What prompted deceased to use the murderous weapon upon Smith did not appear, but it was stated in evicence that deceased said shortly previous to the assault that if he got a chance he would lay Smith out or take his life.

The prisoner was called sud made an unbiaseed statement of the occurrence, and freely admitted striking Mr. Freeman after he had been twice assaulted with the carhook.

Dr. John Beach testified that deceased died from concussion of the brain.

Coroner Herrman then submitted the case to the jury, who rendered the following VERDICT.

"That William Freeman came to his death from concussion of the brain, the result of falling on a box in the liquor store $29 Eighth avenue, said fall, being caused by a blow at the hands of Richard C. Smith. And we further find that said Smith was justified in striking deceased."

On the finding of the verdict Coroner Herrman discharged Smith from custody. whose death was the result of injuries to the head, received on Friday last in the liquor store 820 Eighth

THE MURDEROUS TENTH AVENUE GANG.

On Sunday afternoon Peter Yule, of 822 West Thirty third street, a prother of Police Captain Yule; John Casey, of 446 West Twenty-sixth street, and John Casey, of 446 West Twenty-sixth street, and several others were standing at the corner of Twenty-seventh street and Tenth avenue, enjoying themselves in the style corner statues generally do; through some cause a dispute arose, which terminated in Yule receiving a severe stab wound in the thigh, at the hands, it is alleged, of Casey, who was subsequently arrested by Officer Perkins, of the Sixteenth precinct, and locked up in the Twentieth street station house. He was arraigned before Justice Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, vesterday morning, and remanded to the station house, as the complainant did not appear and could not be found. About a week ago the prisoner was ary rested for going into the grocery store of Peter Clary, at 435 West Twenty-sixth street, and, placing the till on the counter, was in the act of rifling it of $10, when arrested. The threats of his com-panions so intimidated Clary that he refused to prosecute, in consequence of which the prisoner was prosecute, in consequence of which the pr discharged.
